Description: Leadership is the process of helping people accomplish together, what they would not or could not as individuals. Using this definition, this engaging, experiential course is designed for students who demonstrate an aptitude for leading,* training them how to develop these skills through mini-project activities and coaching.

Cost: $199 includes t-shirt, workbook, memory cards and symbols, certificate, book & seminar for parents, activity supplies and 1:6 trainer to student ratio.

Trainer: This course is led by Alan E. Nelson, Ed.D., who teaches leadership at USC Marshall School of Business and the Naval Postgraduate School. Dr. Nelson is the founder of LeadYoung Institute, a non-profit program in the Conejo Valley to identify and develop 10- to 18-year olds, gifted in leadership.

Further description: This is a high structured, project-based format, formatted in teams of 4-7. We are recruiting parents/teachers as leadership coaches as well (volunteer or paid), trained to provide Socratic cues to team leaders during the activities and then facilitate debriefing after each activity. Email us at info@kidlead.com if you'd like to become a certified LeadYoung Institute "Koach."

Parent Book & Seminar: We offer a 90-minute seminar for parents, to complement their book, Bringing Out the Leader in Your Child (included). Students completing 4 out of 5 session will receive a LeadYoung Institute certificate. For more info, go to www.LeadYoungTraining.com.
